Primal Volleyball Club

Privacy & Confidentiality Policy

Primal Volleyball Club is committed to protecting the privacy and confidentiality of athletes, families, coaches, volunteers, and club representatives.

This policy outlines how personal information is collected, used, stored, and protected for the safe and effective operation of the club.

Collection and Use of Information

Primal Volleyball Club may collect personal information required for registration, communication, athlete safety, team administration, tournament registration, travel coordination, coaching requirements, and club operations.

Information collected may include contact information, emergency contacts, medical information relevant to participation, registration details, and certification requirements for coaches and volunteers.

Personal information will only be used for purposes related to the administration and operation of the club.

Confidentiality

Individuals who have access to personal or confidential information through their involvement with Primal Volleyball Club are expected to protect that information and use it only for approved club purposes.

Confidential information may include:

- Medical information
- Emergency contact information
- Personal contact information
- Discipline or complaint matters
- Registration and screening information

Confidential information should not be shared with individuals who do not require access to perform their responsibilities.

Information Protection

Primal Volleyball Club will take reasonable steps to safeguard personal information and limit access to those who require it for club-related purposes.

Information may be shared with governing organizations, health professionals, emergency responders, or legal authorities when required for safety, registration, insurance, or legal purposes.

Media and Photography

Primal Volleyball Club may collect photographs, video recordings, statistics, performance metrics, and other volleyball-related content throughout club activities, including practices, competitions, tournaments, training sessions, team events, and travel experiences.

Content may be collected by coaches, team staff, club representatives, approved photographers, videographers, or designated volunteers for purposes including:

- Athlete development and performance analysis
- Video review and statistical tracking
- Coaching education and program evaluation
- Team and club promotion
- Recruiting support and highlight creation
- Social media content and marketing initiatives
- Historical documentation of athlete and team achievements

Primal Volleyball Club utilizes video analysis platforms and performance tracking tools, which may include Tavo, Hudl, and other approved technologies. Athletes may be recorded during games, practices, training sessions, and club events for developmental and performance review purposes.

Photographs, videos, team accomplishments, tournament results, statistics, and other volleyball-related information may be shared through:

- Club websites
- Team and club social media accounts
- Recruitment materials
- Promotional campaigns
- Sponsor recognition materials
- Presentations, newsletters, and club publications

Primal Volleyball Club will make reasonable efforts to ensure all media content reflects the values and expectations of the club and portrays athletes in a respectful and appropriate manner.

Coach Use of Personal Devices

Primal Volleyball Club recognizes that coaches may occasionally use personal mobile devices as part of approved athlete development and performance analysis programs, including Tavo and other club-approved statistical platforms.

Outside of approved performance analysis, statistical tracking, or club-authorized video review, coaches are not permitted to photograph, video record, or otherwise capture images of athletes using personal devices.

If an athlete requests video footage during practice for development purposes, coaches may only record the athlete using the athlete's personal device. Coaches should not use personal phones, tablets, cameras, or recording devices to capture, retain, or distribute athlete-specific practice footage unless it is part of an approved club activity, performance analysis program, or team video review process.

Personal photos or videos of athletes taken by coaches for non-club purposes are strictly prohibited.

All media collected through approved club programs must be handled in accordance with Primal Volleyball Club's Privacy & Confidentiality Policy, Media Release Form, Safe Sport expectations, and Rule of Two principles.

Ownership and Storage of Media

Media content collected through approved club activities may be retained by Primal Volleyball Club for athlete development, historical documentation, promotional purposes, recruiting support, and ongoing program administration.

Media content collected by the club remains the property of Primal Volleyball Club and may be retained for future club-related use in accordance with applicable consent and media release documentation.

Consent and Media Release

The collection, storage, and use of photographs, videos, statistics, and related media content is governed by the Primal Volleyball Club Media Release Form completed by athletes and their parent(s) or guardian(s), where applicable.

Participation in club activities does not automatically grant permission for public use of media content outside the scope of the completed Media Release Form.

Questions and Concerns

Questions regarding media usage, media removal requests, privacy concerns, or the handling of photographs and video content should be directed to club leadership.

Primal Volleyball Club is committed to using media responsibly while supporting athlete development, celebrating achievements, promoting the sport of volleyball, and preserving memories throughout an athlete's journey within the Primal family.

Participation with Primal Volleyball Club constitutes acknowledgement and acceptance of this policy.
